

31 events in schools, working with scientists, researchers and artists to engage pupils in STEM

9500 people, including children, families and teachers engaging in our whole festival programme

Reaching people across Nottinghamshire, with 63 events in libraries, cultural and heritage venues.

Supported by a partnership of 14 local businesses, universities and local authorities.

This year 56 schools engaged in our programmes & we introduced a morning session at The Real Science in School Symposium specifically for special schools.

15 organisations worked as a collaborative network from cultural venues, science engagement organisations, heritage and educational charities

333

People delivering activities

99.5%

People told us that they enjoyed activities

97%

People said they learned something new

87%

positively changed their perspective of science

178k FOSAC Website site visitors over the festival period

12,000 Festival Magazines distributed across Nottinghamshire

Reaching families in 94% of Nottinghamshire postcode areas

74.8%

of people visited FOSAC for the first time

40%

of people had never been to a science event before

297

New social media followers gained

56

Schools involved in activities

